

Nicole Morella, MA

Director of Public Policy & Communications

Nicole has worked in the domestic violence field for 20 years providing education and technical assistance to improve community level and systemic responses to domestic violence. As Director of Public Policy and Communications, Nicole strives to elevate the needs of survivors to increase safety, access to services, and to develop a strong community response to domestic violence. Nicole serves on the State Domestic Violence Working Group and the NJ Domestic Violence Fatality and Near Fatality Review Board. Prior to joining NJCEDV in 2015, Nicole spent ten years as Coordinator of Professional Training with JBWS in Morris County providing county and state wide training for law enforcement officers, judges, healthcare providers, child protection workers, etc. Nicole began her career as a Legal Advocate with the DC Coalition Against Domestic Violence in Washington, DC, where she obtained her MA in Public Policy and Women's Studies from the George Washington University.