

Board Candidate – Term through 2024

Zeeshan Khan, MD, FAAFP, CMD

Assistant Professor

Rutgers Robert Wood Johnson Medical School at CentraState Medical Center

Dr. Khan graduated with honors from Ross University School of medicine and during his time in school was active as an EMT helping to provide care to his classmates and faculty. Dr. Khan completed his residency in family medicine at Robert Wood Johnson Medical School's Family Medicine Residency at CentraState Medical Center where he was selected as the 2016 NJAFP Family Medicine Resident of the Year.

He went on to complete a geriatric fellowship at Robert Wood Johnson Medical School's Geriatric fellowship at CentraState Medical Center and is a certified medical director with the Society for Post-Acute and Long Term Care Medicine. Dr. Khan holds board certifications in Family Medicine, Geriatric Medicine, and Addiction Medicine. His interests include geriatrics, advanced care planning, and alternative medicine.